SAMPLE

Better retirement outcomes begin with better investments

Returns matter more than you may think – At retirement, 70% or more of a participant's account value may come from returns. Your employees need quality investments to help pursue their retirement dreams.

This hypothetical assumes the participant starts investing 10% of their $40,000 income at age 25 and saves over a 40-year period. And that they continue to contribute 10% each year throughout their career, as their salary increases 3% per year. Total contributions represent $301,605 at age 65. The demographic assumptions, returns and ending balances are hypothetical and provided for illustrative purposes only, and are not intended to provide any assurance or promise of actual returns and outcomes. Returns will be affected by fees, the management of the investments and any adjustments to the assumed contribution rates, salary or other participant demographic information. Actual results may be higher or lower than those shown. Past results are not predictive of results in future periods. Based on an exhibit by CBS Moneywatch.

Even a small increase in returns can dramatically improve outcomes

When it comes to saving, every bit helps. Active investment managers who have a history of lifetime index-beating results – like Capital Group – may give participant contributions a boost.

Based on a hypothetical scenario: $45,000 initial salary, 3% annual salary inflation and 10% annual contribution starting at age 25. Withdrawal rate under all three scenarios is 50% of ending salary ($67,792). For illustrative purposes only. Not intended to portray an actual investment. Returns will be affected by the management of the investments and any adjustments to the assumed contribution rates, salary or other participant demographic information. Actual results may be higher or lower than those shown. Past results are not predictive of results in future periods. The additional years of retirement spending are intended to represent a conservative measure.

The Capital System™ combines independence and teamwork

We begin by defining a clear investment objective and assembling a team that's best equipped to pursue the opportunities.

Why it matters

 Broad diversification

 Rigorous risk management

 Consistency with fund objectives

How it works

Example:
New Perspective Fund®
A diverse group of portfolio managers and analysts brings complementary investment approaches, experience levels, backgrounds and areas of focus.

 Research portfolio
In most funds, a group of investment analysts also manages a portion of the fund known as the research portfolio.

Portfolio managers

Each portfolio manager is assigned a portion of the overall assets to manage independently, enabling them to focus on their highest conviction ideas.

Extensive research is key to pursuing better investment results

Our founder, Jonathan Bell Lovelace, was an investing pioneer whose emphasis on fundamental research continues to guide us.

We've got boots on the ground

We believe that the best way to get to know a company is to know the people behind the business.

And a world of context

Our global research effort helps us pursue investor success – wherever it leads.

Driven by research:

 1931
Founded in Los Angeles, our roots go back to the Great Depression.

 1960s
We became a global investing trail blazer.

 Today
More than a third of our investment professionals live outside the U.S.

As of December 31, 2023.

A long-term perspective drives everything we do

We believe a long-term investment approach aligns with important investor goals like saving for retirement.

Our culture and compensation structure reinforce our long-term focus

We reward long-term results

* Compensation paid to our investment professionals is heavily influenced by results over one-, three-, five- and eight-year periods, with increasing weight placed on each succeeding measurement period to encourage a long-term investment approach.

There's power in being private

We're not driven by quarterly profits. We can keep investing in the people, technology and infrastructure that we believe will help generate better outcomes for investors.

The value of a patient, focused approach

Nearly all of our equity-focused American Funds have generated lifetime index-beating results, even though there have been times when the funds lagged their indexes.

Figures shown are past results for Class R-6 shares and are not predictive of results in future periods. Current and future results may be lower or higher than those shown. Prices and returns will vary, so investors may lose money. Investing for short periods makes losses more likely. For current information and month-end results, visit capitalgroup.com.

* Time-weighted average annual excess return for all 20 equity-focused American Funds. The equal-weighted average annual excess return is 1.41 percentage points. The time-weighted average gives greater emphasis to those funds that have been in existence longer. For example, this means that the 1.38 percentage-point annualized difference between The Investment Company of America and its benchmark is given proportionally greater weighting in alignment with its over 90 years in existence when calculating the average annual excess return across all 20 funds.

Returns are average annual total returns for benchmark indexes and average annual returns for funds at net asset value from fund inception through 12/31/23. Refer to the next page for a list of the indexes used for comparison with each of the American Funds.

We offer a range of share classes designed to meet the needs of retirement plan sponsors and participants. The different share classes incorporate varying levels of financial professional compensation and service provider payments. Because Class R-6 shares do not include any recordkeeping payments, expenses are lower, and results are higher. Other share classes that include recordkeeping costs have higher expenses and lower results than Class R-6.

Help manage risk with fixed income funds

Bond funds can help investors pursue their retirement goals and be more resilient in market downturns.

Four roles of fixed income in a balanced portfolio

Diversification from equities

When stocks struggle, owning bond funds with a low correlation to equities can result in lower portfolio volatility.

Capital preservation

A fixed income allocation should help protect principal in most market environments.

Income

Providing dependable income is a central function of a bond allocation.

Inflation protection

Bonds directly linked to the Consumer Price Index can help to protect an investor's purchasing power.

Choose the target date series that's best for your employees

Selecting a target date retirement series can be one of the most important decisions you make as a plan sponsor.

⊕ A convenient option

Each target date fund is designed to be a broad mix of investments, so participants only need to choose one fund based roughly on the year they expect to retire and begin taking withdrawals.

🛡️ A fiduciary consideration

Target date funds are designed to meet the Department of Labor requirements for a qualified default investment alternative (QDIA), which can reduce a plan sponsor's investment-related fiduciary liability.

Investors often trail the index

Consider the American Funds Target Date Retirement Series®

A target date series is only as good as its underlying funds. Our series combines the American Funds and a distinctive investment approach to help participants pursue their retirement goals.

Results vs. peers

Our underlying funds have outpaced their respective Lipper peer indexes in 83% of rolling 10-year periods.*

Results vs. benchmarks

Over their lifetimes, 82% of our underlying funds have outpaced their respective benchmarks.*

* Based on Class R-6 share results for rolling monthly 10-year periods through December 31, 2023. Periods covered are the shorter of the fund's lifetime or since the comparable Lipper inception date.

A different approach for better outcomes

Help your employees build and preserve wealth with a well-designed glide path that shifts to meet participants' needs.

An investment mix that changes over time

- To help participants manage the risk of outliving their savings, our target date approach gradually shifts the types of equities in the funds from growth-oriented equities to income-oriented equities.
- This approach – with a growing emphasis on dividends – seeks to mitigate market risk while providing income that can help cover the cost of living in retirement.
- Although the target date portfolios are managed for investors on a projected retirement date time frame, the allocation strategy does not guarantee that investors' retirement goals will be met.

Target allocations as of December 31, 2023, and are subject to the oversight committee's discretion. Over the course of the year the Series will be implementing changes such as increasing exposure to New World Fund, decreasing American Funds Global Balanced Fund and adding an allocation to American Funds Emerging Markets Bond Fund. For current allocations to the underlying funds, visit capitalgroup.com. New target allocations will be reached by December 31, 2024. The investment adviser anticipates assets will be invested within a range that deviates no more than 10% above or below the allocations shown in the prospectus. Underlying funds may be added or removed during the year.

Target allocations as of December 31, 2023, and are subject to the oversight committee's discretion. Over the course of the year the Series will be implementing changes such as increasing exposure to New World Fund, decreasing American Funds Global Balanced Fund and adding an allocation to Emerging Markets Bond Fund. For allocations to the underlying funds, visit capitalgroup.com. New target allocations are expected to be reached by December 31, 2024. The investment adviser anticipates assets will be invested within a range that deviates no more than 10% above or below the allocations shown in the prospectus. Underlying funds may be added or removed during the year.

A target date conversion can lead to better participant outcomes

From easier plan administration to a professionally managed asset mix, a target date conversion can benefit plan sponsors and participants.

A target date conversion in action

Investment disclosure

Investment results shown in this material assume all distributions are reinvested and reflect applicable fees and expenses.

Fund shares of U.S. Government Securities Fund are not guaranteed by the U.S. government.

Class R shares are sold without a sales charge.

Class R-6 shares were first offered on May 1, 2009. Class R-6 share results prior to the date of first sale are hypothetical based on the results of the original share class of the fund without a sales charge, adjusted for typical estimated expenses. Results for certain funds with an inception date after May 1, 2009, also include hypothetical returns because those funds' Class R-6 shares sold after the funds' date of first offering. Results for certain funds with an inception date after May 1, 2009, also include hypothetical returns because those funds' Class R-6 shares sold after the funds' date of first offering. For Short-Term Bond Fund of America, shares first sold on November 20, 2009; results prior to that date are hypothetical, except for the period between May 7, 2009, and June 15, 2009, a short period when the fund had shareholders and actual results were calculated. Refer to each fund's prospectus for more information on specific expenses.

Investment results, when applicable, reflect fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements, without which results would have been lower. Expense ratios are as of each fund's prospectus available at the time of the publication. Refer to capitalgroup.com/investor for month-end results and for more information.

Although the target date portfolios are managed for investors on a projected retirement date time frame, the allocation strategy does not guarantee that investors' retirement goals will be met. Investment professionals manage the portfolio, moving it from a more growth-oriented strategy to a more income-oriented focus as the target date gets closer. The target date is the year that corresponds roughly to the year in which an investor is assumed to retire and begin taking withdrawals. Investment professionals continue to manage each portfolio for approximately 30 years after it reaches its target date.

Investing outside the United States involves risks, such as currency fluctuations, periods of illiquidity and price volatility, as more fully described in the prospectus. These risks may be heightened in connection with investments in developing countries.

The return of principal for bond funds and for funds with significant underlying bond holdings is not guaranteed. Fund shares are subject to the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks associated with the underlying bond holdings. Investments in mortgage-related securities involve additional risks, such as prepayment risk, as more fully described in the prospectus.

Lower rated bonds are subject to greater fluctuations in value and risk of loss of income and principal than higher rated bonds.

Small-company stocks entail additional risks, and they can fluctuate in price more than larger company stocks.

While not directly correlated to changes in interest rates, the values of inflation linked bonds generally fluctuate in response to changes in real interest rates and may experience greater losses than other debt securities with similar durations.

The use of derivatives involves a variety of risks, which may be different from, or greater than, the risks associated with investing in traditional cash securities, such as stocks and bonds.

For American Funds Strategic Bond Fund, the fund may engage in frequent and active trading of its portfolio securities, which may involve correspondingly greater transaction costs, adversely affecting the fund's results.

Our approach to pricing is designed to provide better overall value – to you and your employees

We aim to deliver high quality at a reasonable price

Our PlanPremier recordkeeping fees are based on the number of plan participants, not on plan assets – so recordkeeping costs don't increase as plan assets grow.

The advantage of fixed-dollar pricing

American Funds fixed-dollar recordkeeping fee versus a hypothetical fee based on a percentage of assets.

The PlanPremier-Bundled recordkeeping fee is based on a plan with $2.5 million in assets and 50 participants. The hypothetical asset-based fee starts at the same level as the PlanPremier-Bundled fee in the first year ($8,400, or 0.34% of assets) and applies the same 0.34% rate to plan assets with plan contributions of $150,000 and a growth rate of 8% added at the end of each year starting with year 2.

A review of PlanPremier pricing
