A good plan can help you go the distance

Saving for the future may not always feel easy. But the reality is that Social Security alone won't be enough to live comfortably – especially with increasing life expectancies and longer retirements. That's why it's good to start saving as soon as possible.

Good news

Your employer offers a retirement savings plan to help you pursue your retirement goals.

You're on your way

By enrolling in your plan, you're taking steps toward your financial goals.

We're here to help

Along with your plan's financial professional, we're here to help you make the most of your plan.

* As of 12/31/22

Investments are not FDIC-insured, nor are they deposits of or guaranteed by a bank or any other entity, so they may lose value.

This section highlights key features of your plan, including a company match (when applicable), to help employees understand the value of their retirement plan benefit.

Why investing in your plan is a good choice

You wouldn't turn down free money

Your employer gives you money just for contributing to your retirement plan. These extra contributions can help provide the income you'll need in retirement.

Everybody loves a tax break

Making pretax contributions to your plan can reduce your taxable income now; or with Roth contributions, you pay taxes now, and your qualified withdrawals will be tax-free later.

It's easy to contribute

Your contribution is automatically deducted from your paycheck. That means you can set it and forget it until you want to make a change.

The power of time

Time is an important factor in growing your retirement savings. The longer you're invested, the more potential you have to earn money, thanks to compounding.

You can access your money

Your retirement plan savings are meant for retirement, but you may be able to access your money if needed. Potential tax penalties may apply.

How to enroll in your plan

We've simplified enrollment to help employees start saving for retirement without feeling overwhelmed by the process.

You're automatically enrolled in your plan

Your employer has taken the first step for you by enrolling you in the plan.

For plans that offer automatic enrollment, this page provides essential investment information and helps answer common employee questions.

How it works

Money from your paycheck will automatically be contributed and invested in your retirement plan as shown below unless you opt out or elect a different contribution amount or investment option. You can always make changes or stop contributing.

How much will I contribute?

The amount that will be deducted from your pay.

How much will my contribution increase?

1%

Your contribution rate will automatically increase by X% each year until you reach X%. This is designed to help you pursue your goals.

How much will my employer match?

3%

To help you save more, your employer match is a percentage of what you contribute, up to X% of your pay. The maximum match is $X per year.

Which fund will I be invested in?

Target date fund

Your plan's default investment is an age-based target date retirement fund.

Review the Investment-related information and Plan-related information sections to learn more about your investment options, including returns, fees and expenses. To make changes to your investment options, go to myretirement.americanfunds.com or complete the forms in this book.

Some investors may think they can't afford to save for retirement. This page shows them how small steps can help them work toward a larger goal.

How much do you want to contribute?

Many financial professionals say you may need to save 10% to 15% of your salary each year to have enough to live on in retirement.

Small steps can help get you there

Sofia and Anthony work at the same company and are the same age. They each begin earning an annual salary of $50,000 and contribute 6% of their pay to their retirement plan. Anthony increases his contribution by 1% each year until he reaches his 10% goal while Sofia sticks with her 6% contribution. Take a look at how Anthony's small increases would've boosted his monthly retirement income by more than 50% in the hypothetical example below.

How small increases can make a big difference over time

No increases

Sofia saves 6% of her pay until retirement.

Small increases

Anthony increases his 6% contribution by 1% each year until it reaches 10%.

These hypothetical examples assume a starting salary of $50,000, a 2% annual pay increase, a 30-year accumulation period, an 8% average annual return compounded monthly and a 4% annual withdrawal rate after the accumulation period. These are point-in-time views and as such do not take into account any growth or loss during retirement. Without investment growth/loss during retirement, a 4% annual withdrawal rate would deplete retirement savings in 25 years. Examples are for illustrative purposes only and do not reflect the results of any particular investment, which may differ, or taxes that may be owed on tax-deferred contributions, including the 10% penalty for withdrawals taken before age 59½. Regular investing does not ensure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market. Investors should consider their willingness to keep investing when share prices are declining.

This page offers an at-a-glance look at the types of investments offered in your plan and, when applicable, reinforces how Quick enroll can be a simple enrollment solution for employees.

Where do you want to invest your contributions?

Your plan offers different types of investments to choose from. Learn more about these options on the following pages.

Target date funds: keep it simple

“I like that investment professionals are managing the fund for me. That gives me time to focus on other things.”

How it works

You choose the target date fund that’s closely aligned with the year you plan to retire and begin taking withdrawals. Our investment professionals handle the rest. They adjust the fund’s holdings over time to become more conservative as you near retirement.

Why choose a target date fund?

- It’s a simplified, “do-it-for-me” approach to investing.
- Each fund is designed to be a broad mix of investments, so you only need to choose one.

Choose one target date fund

 If you were born in	 Then consider choosing*
2003 and later	2070 Fund

* The table assumes you will begin taking retirement withdrawals at age 65. If you plan to begin taking withdrawals at another time, you may want to choose another target date fund that better aligns with your retirement goals.

Although American Funds target date funds are managed for investors on a projected retirement date time frame, the funds’ allocation approach does not guarantee that investors’ retirement goals will be met. American Funds investment professionals manage each target date fund’s portfolio, moving it from a more growth-oriented approach to a more income-oriented focus as the fund gets closer to its target date. Investment professionals continue to manage each fund for approximately 30 years after it reaches its target date. The target date is the year that corresponds roughly to the year in which an investor is assumed to retire and begin taking withdrawals.

Individual funds: personalize your portfolio

“I want to choose specific funds to help me achieve my goals and complement my other investments.”

How it works

There are funds for every kind of investor. When you choose your investment mix, you create your own customized portfolio based on a number of factors, including your risk tolerance, when you expect to withdraw the money and any retirement savings you may have outside your plan.

Why choose your own investment mix?

- It's a “do-it-yourself” approach if you want to choose your own investments.
- You can tailor an investment portfolio with your specific goals in mind.

Choose investments that make sense for you

Different investments may have different objectives with varying degrees of risk-and-return potential. For example:

Capital preservation investments

Aim to preserve what you've saved but may not provide the growth needed to meet your retirement goals.

Bond and balanced types of investments

Typically fall in the middle in terms of risk and return.

Growth investments

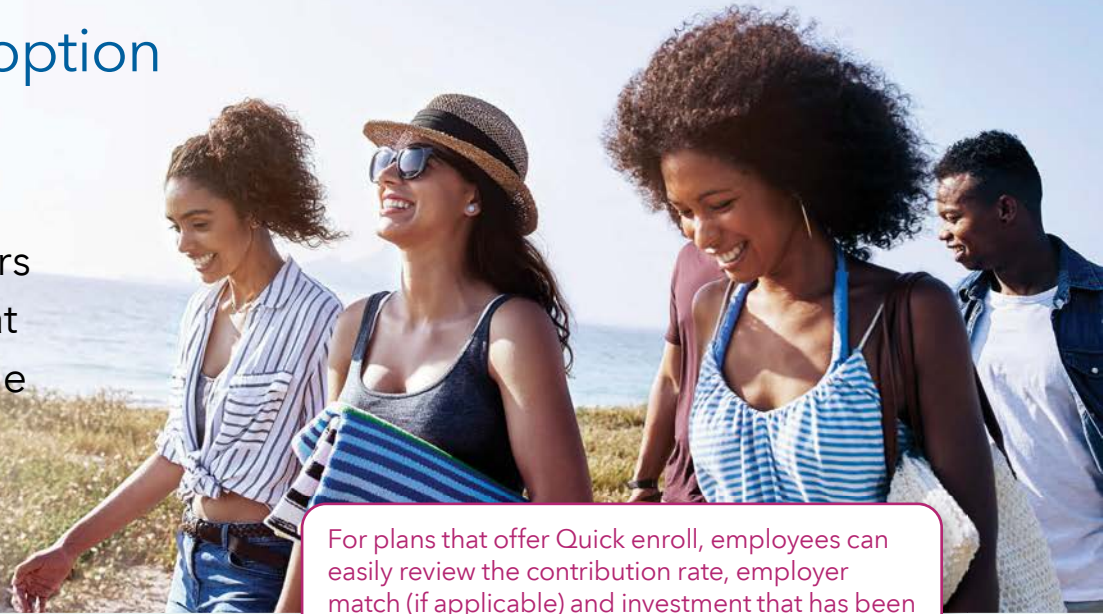

Have the highest long-term return potential but also carry the highest potential risk.

For plans that offer Quick enroll, employees can easily review the contribution rate, employer match (if applicable) and investment that has been selected for this one-step enrollment option.

How it works

The amount that will be deducted from your pay.

How much will my employer match?

of what you contribute, up to 5% of your pay. 6% of what you contribute on the next 7% of your pay. The maximum match is 8% per year. To help you save more, your employer match is a percentage of your pay.

Results are for the American Funds Class R-4 shares at net asset value. Class R shares do not require an up-front or deferred sales charge. For current information and month-end results for the American Funds and any other investments in your plan, please visit myretirement.americanfunds.com or ask your employer.

One way to assess an investment's results is to compare its results with those of a comparable benchmark or index. The benchmarks and their returns are shown in the table. Check your investment's annual and semi-annual reports to shareholders for more information.

You should carefully consider fees and expenses when making investment decisions. The cumulative effect of fees and expenses can substantially reduce the growth of your retirement account over time. For an example of the long-term effect of fees and expenses, visit the Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) website at www.dol.gov/sites/default/files/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications/a-look-at-401k-plan-fees.pdf. However, fees and expenses are only one of many factors to consider when you evaluate your plan investment options.

Generally, there are two types of fees and expenses associated with saving and investing through a retirement plan: (1) recordkeeping and administrative fees and (2) investment expenses. The expenses related to each investment in your plan are known as the expense ratios. Expense ratios tend to vary with the investment category; for example, a money market investment will generally have a lower expense ratio than a global equity investment, which has higher costs.

The gross expense ratio reflects the investment's total annual operating expenses. It does not include any fee waivers or expense reimbursements. The net expense ratio reflects any applicable fee waivers or expense reimbursements. This is the actual expense ratio that you paid. Expense ratios are as of each investment's prospectus available at the time of publication.

Because your retirement plan offers other investments besides the American Funds, the share classes may vary. To learn more about these share classes, please read the most recent prospectuses, if applicable.

From July 30, 1987, through December 31, 1987, the MSCI World Index was used because the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) did not exist. Investment-related information

Please read the following investment-related disclosure.

Investment results assume all distributions are reinvested and reflect applicable fees and expenses. Expense ratios are as of each fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. Net expense ratios reflect any current waivers and/or reimbursements to the funds; gross expense ratios do not. When applicable, investment results reflect fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements, without which results would have been lower. For more information, please refer to your plan's website.

Lifetime returns for less than one year aren't annualized, but are calculated as cumulative total returns.

Some investment names may be abbreviated due to space limitations. For a list of the full names of the American Funds, including trademark information, visit americanfundsretirement.com.

The indexes are unmanaged and, therefore, have no expenses. Investors cannot invest directly in an index. There have been periods when the investments have lagged the indexes.

Investment risks

Investing outside the United States involves risks such as currency fluctuations, periods of illiquidity and price volatility as more fully described in the funds' prospectuses. These risks may be heightened in connection with investments in developing countries. Small-company stocks entail additional risks, and they can fluctuate in price more than larger company stocks.

Lower rated bonds are subject to greater fluctuations in value and risk of loss of income and principal than are higher rated bonds. The return of principal for bond funds and for funds with underlying bond holdings is not guaranteed. Fund shares are subject to the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks associated with the underlying bond holdings.

While not directly correlated to changes in interest rates, the values of inflation-linked bonds generally fluctuate in response to changes in real interest rates and may experience greater losses than other debt securities with similar durations. Investments in mortgage-related securities involve additional risks, such as prepayment risk, as more fully described in the prospectus.

Fund shares of the U.S. Government Securities Fund are not guaranteed by the U.S. government.

For information about the specific risks associated with each fund, read its prospectus or the fund details on your plan's website.

Share class

American Funds Class R-4 shares were first offered on May 15, 2002. Class R-4 share results prior to the date of first sale are hypothetical based on the results of the original share class of the fund without a sales charge, adjusted for typical estimated expenses. Results for certain funds with an inception date after May 15, 2002, also include hypothetical returns because those funds' Class R-4 shares sold after the funds' date of first offering. Please refer to each fund's prospectus for more information on specific expenses.

Important information about outside funds

Because your plan offers investments that aren't managed by Capital Group (the investment manager for the American Funds), the share classes may vary. If you're interested in learning more about these share classes, please read the most recent prospectuses, if applicable. The prospectus also contains details about specific investment risks and key financial data, such as fees and expenses. You can obtain prospectuses from your employer.

Administrative expenses

Plan-level expenses/credits
The day-to-day operation of a retirement plan involves expenses for ongoing administrative services – such as plan record-keeping, compliance and plan document services, investment services and trustee/custodial services – that are necessary for administering the plan as a whole. A retirement plan also offers a host of other services, such as a telephone voice response system, access to customer service representatives, retirement planning tools, electronic access to plan information, account statements and online transactions.

A portion of these services are paid from the plan's investments. This is reflected in each investment's expense ratio and reduces the investment returns. If an additional amount is required to cover your plan's administrative expenses, your employer expects that it will be paid from the plan's forfeiture assets or from the general assets of your employer.

The plan may also incur unexpected expenses that may be deducted from participant accounts.
